Gabrielson Goes Before Senators

G.O.P. Chairman Asks Probers Clear Him of Influence

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—(AP)—Guy G. Gabrielson, Republican national chairman, asked Senate investigators today to clear him of any "tinge of influence peddling, bribes" or other improper conduct in his contacts with government agencies.

Gabrielson made the plea in a prepared statement he filed with the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

An immediate issue is his role in negotiations concerning $18,500,000 of RFC loans to Carthage-Hydrocol Inc., of which he is president and general counsel.

Gabrielson denied his contacts with RFC in connection with the loans were improper. He said he was appearing before the Senate Investigations Subcommittee at his own request "to refute slander, with facts."

Won't Quit Under Fire

The G.O.P. chairman referred only obliquely to demands from some Senate Republicans for his resignation, but did declare he will not quit under fire.

"It seemed to me that to resign as Republican chairman in the hope of saving my party embarrassment would have been construed as an admission of improper conduct,, he declared.

The committe, headed by Senator Hoey (D-NC), billed the inquiry as parallel to one it is conducting into the contacts between William M. Boyle Jr., Democratic national chairman, and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC).

In each case, Hoey says, the committee plans to speak out on propriety of the party chairman's conduct.

The twin inquiries drew from Senator McCarran (D-Nev), chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, a demand that Congress swiftly enact a law forbidding any political party official from accepting a fee or other financial benefit from his contacts with government agencies.

Starting Point

Starting point in the Gabrielson inquiry is his acknowledged negotiation with the RFC for more lenient terms on $18,500,000 loans to the Carthage-Hydrocol Inc., which he heads.

This is the case which has stirred among some Republican lawmakers a series of demands that Gabrielson should resign or be fired as G.O.P. chairman.

The latest of these came last night in the form of a statement by 12 G.O.P representatives. They said "we do not question (Gabrielson's) personal honor or integrity," but that:

"In the light of the unparalled corruption which has characterized the Truman administration, the national chairman of a great political party must divorce himself completely from any transactions with the U. S. government."

British Gain Two Miles

Fighting Chinese Slow Allied Stab In Kaesong Area

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 4—(AP)—Fierce Communist counterattacks slowed the Allied offensive in Western Korea today.

Only the British commonwealth forces found the going comparatively easy. They captured some of their objectives against relatively light opposition west of Yonchon.

Most of the British advance was made by the Canadian 25th Brigade.

In bitter hand-to-hand fighting infantrymen of five divisions gained up to two miles Wednesday.

A series of Chinese counterattacks slowed the advance. Censorship delayed details and reports of progress.

The offensive smashed to within earshot of Kaesong, site of disrupted truce negotiations which the Reds Thursday refused to reopen anywhere else.

A roaring artillery barrage Wednesday opened the attack—the largest launched on the Korean front in three months.

The Allies—British, Canadian, Australian, New Zealand, American, Greek, Turkish, Filipino and Korean troops—fought shoulder to shoulder.

Backed by Tanks

Fifty-seven ton British centurion tanks rolled forward with them as the foot soldiers seared Chinese out of the hills with flame throwers.

Front line dispatches reported the Reds were well entrenched in bunkers lining strategic hill masses.

One dispatch said resistance west of Chorwon suddenly evaporated in the night on the northern end of a ridge line. The Communists gave up their positions under cover of darkness and let the Allies take over without firing a shot. The Reds previously had blocked every attempt to take the ridges.

"Elsewhere," the dispatch said, "U. N. troops continued to run into the same heavy Communist resistance that had stalled all Allied attacks for the past three days.

"An estimated two Red companies surged from their ridge positions late last night in a counterattack against nearby U. N units. The enemy fought vainly for two and a half hours before being forced to withdraw to their positions."

The British commonwealth division, operating for the first time as a unit, opened the widened offensive.

Gain Two Miles

In some of the bitterest fighting of the drive they gained up to two miles on the southern flank of the advance. The British operated east and northeast of Korangpo, which lies just south of the 38th Parallel about 12 miles west of Kaesong.

Reds Break Silence; Ask Truce Talks

Ridgway Again Turns Down Bid For Kaesong as Site

TOKYO, Oct. 4—(AP)—In an abrupt exchange of messages today, Red and Allied commanders each proposed that Korean truce talks be resumed immediately—but disagreed on a site.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway injected a new note into the situation by telling the Reds to pick a new site—as long as it was in no-man's-land. If it looks OK to him, he said, armistice negotiations could resume at once.

The talks were broken off abruptly by the Communists Aug. 23.

The Reds started today's rapid exchange by suddenly breaking a week-long silence. As a new Allied offensive roared within earshot of Kaesong, they answered a message Ridgway sent them last Thursday.

The Reds rejected Ridgway's suggestion that talks start anew near Songhyon, a no-man's-land village six miles southeast of Kaesong. They said the suggestion was "devoid of reason."

The Communists said it would provide no new assurance that neutrality agreements would be observed. Instead they suggested:

"Both sides immediately resume the conference at Kaesong. At the first meeting . . appropriate machinery should be established to stipulate a strict agreement concerning the neutralization of Kaesong."

Explains Order Tightening Control of Govt. Information

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—(AP)—President Truman said today that his executive order tightening control over government information grew out of publication of 95 percent of our secrets "by the newspapers and slick magazines."

In a news conference which started late and lasted longer than usual, the President sparred with newspapermen over the order and declared he had no desire to suppress freedom of speech.

The order was issued Sept 25 It empowers civilian as well as military of the government agencies to withhold information which they think might endanger the national security, and establishes uniform methods of "classifying" such information.

Although the President's announcement of the new order said censorship was not involved, the order has been widely attacked by editors, publishers and many members of Congress as establishing censorship at the source of information to which the public is entitled.

Suggestion

Mr. Truman suggested today that newsmen should withhold even some information made available to them by authorized government agencies.

Various reporters at the news conference then expressed puzzlement over just what the President expects of them.

Over and over again, the President said '95 percent of all this country's secret information has been released in the press.

At one point he gave permission for direct quotation when he said it had been published "in the

Need Jessup In U.N., Says Warren Austin

Top U. S. Delegate Testifies in Roving Ambassador's Favor

WASHINGTON, Oct 4—(AP)—Warren R. Austin told senators today the United States needs men like ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup on its delegation to the forthcoming United Nations general assembly in Paris.

Austin, former Republican senator from Vermont and now the chief U. S. delegate to the U N., testified at a Senate foreign relations subcommittee hearing on President Truman's nomination of Jessup to be one of 11 delegates and alternates to the General Assembly.

Saying that more mouthing of Communist propaganda can be expected at the Paris meeting, in addition to the many important items on the agenda, Austin said the U S. delegation:

"Needs a man like Dr. Philip C Jessup and these others here who have the principles and policies of the United States as part of the fiber of their beings so that at no time during the great storm and stress we are sure to experience, there will be no failure of ability, morality, courage, or the skill to represent this great country."

Austin, speaking without a prepared statement, went before the subcommittee before Jessup himself returned to resume the day-long testimony he gave yesterday.

Austin already had written the subcommittee praising Jessup's previous service as a U. N. delegate.

At a day-long session yesterday, Jessup declared under oath that Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) gave false testimony in swearing earlier that Jessup has been affiliated with six Communist-front organizations.

Jessup said he was presenting evidence which would "unmark Senator McCarthy's alleged proof as a mixture of barefaced falsehoods, distortions and misrepresentations."

As a result of frequent challenging questions by some committee members, Jessup got only about halfway through his 42-page prepared statement, which does not deal with the issue of recognition of Communist China.

Set Off 2nd Bomb, White House Notes

Developments Raise Question of Atomic Warfare in Korea

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Military Reporter

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—(AP)—Russia has exploded a second atomic bomb and is rushing ahead with production of nuclear weapons, the White House announced yesterday.

The announcement, coming just two years and two weeks after President Truman disclosed the first atomic explosion in the Soviet, gave no further details.

But the announcement, coupled with other developments at home and abroad, raised anew the question whether atomic warfare might flare in Korea.

Supporting Facts

There Russia's satellite troops and United Nations forces are in stalemated battle; bitter fighting and mounting casualties bring victory no nearer for either side. Is resort to atomic arms contemplated? There are these facts:

1. A White House announcement that "another atomic bomb has recently been exploded within the Soviet Union" and that Russia, despite pretensions that her atomic energy program is only for peaceful purposes, "is continuing to make atomic weapons."

2. An assertion by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), member and former chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Committee, that powerful new atomic weapons are available for use in Korea; that he favors using them; but that it is a military decision.

3. The claim by Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, while on a Far East war zone trip, that U. N. forces can fight the war to a successful "military conclusion" if truce talks fail finally. The general did not make any explanation of how this would be done against a numerically superior enemy. Bradley left Washington for talks with commanders in Korea last Wednesday night, presumably before the report on the latest Russian atomic explosion was made. He was due back today.

No Details

Except for the single opening sentence saying another bomb has been exploded within the Soviet Union, the White House statement issued at direction of President Truman contained no details.

The balance of the brief statement was devoted to stressing "again the necessity for that effective, enforceable international control of atomic energy which the United States and a large majority of the members of the United Nations support."

However, White House use of the phrase "atomic bomb" was significant. The President announced two years ago—on Sept. 23, 1949—that evidence had been obtained of an "atomic explosion." He cautiously refrained from use of the word "bomb." This time, the American scientists whose duty it is to maintain constant vigil for such things, apparently were sure it was an actual bomb.

Apparently evidence of the release of atomic energy into the upper atmosphere, where traces are picked up by delicate instruments even though the explosion may occur thousands of miles distant, was fortified by an actual record of the explosive shock. A congressional source said a seismographic record, like that used for earthquakes, was obtained and showed the explosion was "very successful."

It appeared to have occurred within the last few days.

And it was of the nuclear fission type, not a hydrogen bomb explosion, it was explained in other authoritative quarters.

There was also some evidence that the Russians had failed in another atomic explosive test before the successful one announced by the White House. Experts in a position to know said there seemed to be evidence that the first of the two experimental bombs fizzled, failing to produce an actual detonation.

Hardin County Family Loses Home in Fire

Only Few Pieces Of Furniture Saved In Blaze Near McGuffey

Special to The Star

KENTON, Oct. 4—The family of Lonzo Ousley of near McGuffey in Hardin County is homeless today following a fire which destroyed their seven-room house yesterday at about 4:30 p.m. The fire destroyed everything they owned except a few pieces of furniture. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Mrs Ousley was in the kitchen of the house making jelly over a wood burning stove when one of her children, playing outside, came in and told her the roof of the house was in flames.

Watch Home Burn

She picked up two-month-old Judy Kay from her crib and ran outside. She and the children were helpless to do anything but watch the home burn.

The McGuffey and Kenton fire departments answered the alarm but there was nothing they could do to save the building, it was reported. It is believed sparks set fire to the roof.

Mr. Ousley, a wood cutter by trade, was in Kenton at San Antonio Hospital visiting his 12-year-old son, Hager, who about one month ago suffered burns on his legs when he threw kerosene on a brush fire.

Mr. Ousley is employed at the Gilbert Oborn sawmill near Kenton.

Other Children

Besides Judy Kay and Hager, there are four other children. They are Adice, 15, Elmer, 8, Stella, 5, and Lois, 3.

The family is staying with relatives for the present.

150 On O.S.U. Faculty Protest Screening of Campus Speakers

COLUMBUS, Oct. 4—(UP)—Storm clouds gathered over the usually peaceful oval of Ohio State University today as 150 members of the College of Education faculty protested screening of campus speakers.

A university announcement yesterday disclosed the machinery had been established to clear all speakers through the office of Ohio State president Howard L. Bevis. This was in keeping with a ruling made by the university's board of trustees earlier.

Shortly after the announcement, a resolution protesting the board's action was submitted to the university's conference committee of the teaching staff. It was signed by 150 of the 200 members of the College of Education teaching staff.

The protest drew fire from Sen. John W. Bricker, (R-O), who is a member of the board of trustees. He said the resolution was "an expression of distrust in President Bevis."

Bricker also defended the board's action. He said their order was "in no sense a gag rule."

The trustee's order came as the result of a speech given on the campus last July by Dr. Harold O. Rugg, a controversial Columbia University professor emeritus. Rugg was invited to the university by graduate students and teachers, with the approval of the College of Education.

It was learned that Bevis' office has already refused permission to speak on the campus to Cecil Hinshaw of New York, a pacifist lecturer of the American Friends Committee.

Hinshaw is a former president of a Quaker college in Iowa and is reported to be strongly opposed to Communism. He has been associated, however, with pacifist groups which are protesting military appropriations.

Bradley Back, Sees Chance Of Korea Victory

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—(AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley came back from the Korean war zone today with word that "there is a chance of winning a military decision in Korea."

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff arrived by military plane after a week of conferences with military leaders in the Far East. He was accompanied by Mrs. Bradley and State Department counselor Charles Bohlen, an expert on Russia.

Neither the general nor Bohlen would discuss the stalemated cease-fire negotiations.

Referring to the Communists Bohlen commented that "we don't get many ideas about what those fellows are thinking in Japan or Korea, or in Washington either."

Bradley declined to comment on the purpose of the Eighth Army drive that started yesterday on the western end of the line.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 4 —(AP)—The State Civil Service Commission today ordered the Department of Welfare to restore Dr Robert H. Reddick to his post as psychiatrist at Hawthornden State Hospital. The commission reversed the order of removal filed against Dr. Reddick. It ordered him reinstated to his former post "with full rights and benefits thereof."

Lecture-Recital Club Event

Marion Musicians, Girl Dancer To Present Program

First patroness program of the Marion Lecture - Recital Club Monday night at Hotel Harding ballroom will feature a variety of musical and dance talent. Its emphasis is on music in the modern mode.

Besides a dance number there will be a clarinet and piano group, and musical drama, "The Telephone," or "L'Amour a Trois," classified as "opera buffa in one act," with words and music by Gian-Carlo Menotti. All will be the work of Marion musicians. Teamed together for the first time in dramatic act will be two popular Marion musicians, Mrs. George Griffiths and George W. Lane.

To open the program, Miss Melinda Plank, young dancer, will present "Dance of the Flutes" from "The Nutcracker Suite," Tschaikowsky. She is the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Plank of near Marion and student of the Etheyl Battin Dancing Academy at Mansfield. Last spring, she appeared in a program of ballet with other pupils at the academy at the Marion Country Club when the Art Club and Lecture-Recital Club held a joint program. Recently, she has been on television programs originating at Detroit and Toledo.

Clarinetist to Play

Miss Marilyn Hogen, Marion music teacher and clarinetist, will present a group of numbers, accompanied by Mrs. John F. Lacey at the piano. Her selections will include "Solo de Concours," Rabaud, "Sonata for Clarinet and Piano," Sowerby, and "Scherzo Brillante," Jeanjean. A graduate of Dana School of Music, Youngstown College, she is instrumental teacher in the Marion public schools. In college, she was student conductor of the college band and played clarinet, was violinist in the college orchestra, was a member of the woodwind ensemble, was a member of the Ohio Intercollegiate Band two years, and a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional women's music organization. Mrs. Lacey is a well-known accompanist and piano soloist in Marion and this district.

"The Telephone," written originally for production by the Ballet Society, is a musical dialog between "Lucy," a soprano, played by Mrs. Griffiths, and "Ben," baritone, played by Mr. Lane. It was presented by Community Concert Association artists in Marion a few seasons ago at the Palace Theater, and was received enthusiastically as a new mode of musical expression. Menotti is an Italian composer, educated in music in this country, with several operas and recent Broadway hit, "The Consul," to his credit. Director of the local production of "The Telephone" is Miss Barbara Axe, and Mrs. Howard Hinamon is accompanist.

Active in Music Circles

Mrs. Griffiths has been active in music circles in Marion and the area in a variety of programs before numerous audiences, and on the radio, and is in constant demand as a soloist.

Mr. Lane is a teacher of instrumental music in the Marion public schools and director of Epworth Methodist Church choir, has several compositions for local choral groups to his credit, and is frequently an accompanist. He has studied at Columbia University in New York City.

Tickets are in the hands of Lecture - Recital Club members, and will be available at the door Monday night, it was announced. Time of the program will be 8 o'clock.

Navy Club Auxiliary Endorses School Levy

At a meeting of the Marion Navy Club Auxiliary Monday night, the members endorsed the Marion public school four-mill levy. Named as delegates to the Ohio Squadron fall reunion in Springfield Oct. 13 and 14 were Mrs. Gladys Vaughan and Mrs. Margaret Abbott, and Mrs. Betty McClaskey and Mrs. Isabelle Coleman, alternates.

A box supper was planned in connection with the Halloween party at the Navy Club rooms Oct. 29. A special prize was won by Mrs. Abbott. The next regular auxiliary meeting will be Oct. 15.

About 50 hours of hand labor are now required to produce an acre of peanuts.

Cheap Enough for All

IN THE remote event that Red censors were to let the Russian people hear about the giant strides taken by the United States toward mass production of fisslonable material, the Russian people would feel just as discouraged as the American people feel.

Aside from military considerations, the only comfort in the atomic age so far has been the thought that A-bombs and H-bombs cost too much to be set off indiscriminately. No potential victim had given much thought to the possibility they might become cheap enough for all, thanks to mass production.

Gordon Dean, chairman of the atomic energy commission, declares this has not happened yet. But it takes no special imagination to deduct from the tone of recent remarks by men like Dean and Senator McMahon, chairman of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy, that fissionable material is being developed at a more rapid rate than before.

The United States is not ready to pursue that timeless will-o-the-wisp, a cheap war, but it is turning out more units of atomic destruction than it formerly was able to turn out. That is bad news for everybody concerned with the prospect of atomic warfare—Americans as well as Russians. Just as no one has a monopoly on atomic energy, no one has a monopoly on mass production.

Fact-Concealers

THE use of words to conceal facts is as old as spoken and written language. As Arthur Krock pointed out recently in the New York Times, the only way to keep track of what is going on in government is to be familiar with the fact-concealers currently in use.

For example, unless one knows that "breach of security" means information which embarrasses someone in the government and "flagrant breach of security" is something which embarrasses the White House or Democratic national committee, he is politically illiterate.

"Forward-looking men," Krock points out are the ones who find it convenient to inspect only the future, whereas "backward-looking men" are those spoilsports who insist on looking at the record since 1933. These fact-concealers are reminders of three others in past and current use.

"Liberal" during the Roosevelt New Deal was used freely to conceal what was being done by Socialists. During the pre-Korea phase of the Truman Fair Deal, the same thing sometimes was called "liberal," sometimes "progressive." Today, both these words have given way to a new phrase, with two opposite meanings—"defense mobilization."

This means buckling down to the task of getting ready to fight a war, if war occurs. But it also means a general speedup of socialization, as desired by the American Socialists who have moved into the Truman Administration.

The two meanings must be kept separate. The latter has nothing to do with the readiness of the United States to fight a war if war occurs. It is concerned only with the breathless ambitions of political parasites to take control of the sources of wealth on which they feed.

In Contempt of the People

THE rumor that Juan Peron, running for reelection to the presidency of Argentina, may have staged an abortive revolt last week to whoop up popular enthusiasm for his candidacy is easy to believe.

There is a technique of authoritarian rule, which includes systematic excitement of popular emotions. The Kremlin, for example, never misses a chance to play up the warlike intentions of the United States. Hitler's regime was backed up by the emotional resentment of German nationalists against "oppressors." Japan's military dictatorship relied heavily on the false claim that the United States was preparing to conquer the Japanese islands. Mussolini's shabby adventure in empire building was undertaken against a lurid backdrop of jingoism, to excite the Italian people.

Even in the United States, it is not unheard of to rely on psychology to whoop up enthusiasm that is not warranted by the facts as they lie. This government is far from being free to employ techniques of authoritarian rule. But it is not about resorting to ways and means of exciting popular emotions on the eve of national elections—and anyone who doubts it needs only to watch what is done by the political party in power a year from next month, when voters cast their ballots in the next presidential election.

It's said there are New York waiters who average as much as $200 a week in tips, and with no OPS ceiling to prevent the take from going higher its likely that some of their employers are wondering why they ever went into business for themselves.

A Michigan man reports that $100 in currency he placed in the deep freeze at his home was taken by a burglar. He's lucky the visitor didn't carry off a few pounds of steak instead.

Demand for New Probe

By David Lawrence

Acheson Accused of "Contradictions"

WASHINGTON

NOT long ago a slight discrepancy in the testimony of former Communist Louis Budenz—something that will be cleared up in a future hearing soon—brought on an artificially developed furor. Demands were made by Administration senators that the whole thing be subject to a new investigation and that perjury might be involved.

Now, however, something far more serious has occurred which led Rep. Timothy P. Sheehan of Illinois, Republican, to demand in the House of Representatives that there be an investigation of "possible perjury" by Secretary of State Acheson in connection with contradictions in testimony that he gave on American policy toward China.

LAWRENCE

The administration is strangely silent and shows no such interest in conflicting testimony as it did in the Budenz incident.

Mr. Sheehan made it clear that the testimony of Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, "completely contradicts" Mr. Acheson's statements before the Senate armed services committee when it was investigating the ouster of MacArthur last spring.

* * *

MR. ACHESON testified then: "I said that throughout and up to the present time we have always recognized and supported this government (the Nationalists), and we have not aided, abetted, made plans to recognize or anything in that field this other (Communist) government."

But former Governor Stassen has just testified before the Senate internal security committee that he learned from the late Senator Vandenberg of Michigan that Ambassador Jessup and Secretary Acheson once urged President Truman in 1949 or early 1950 to dramatize a plan to give no more aid to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek by unloading ships of supplies meant for the Chinese Nationalists.

Mr. Stassen also uncovered another contradiction far more sensational. He revealed that Owen Lattimore had far more to do with the shaping of Department of State policy than Mr. Acheson, by his testimony, has heretofore led the public to believe.

* * *

TESTIFYING under oath, Mr. Stassen swore that, until the Korean war broke out, the State Department followed nine out of ten of the recommendations made by Mr. Lattimore at an informal round-table conference held under the auspices of the Department of State in October, 1949. The 10th recommendation was that the Communist regime be recognized.

Senator McCarthy has charged that Mr. Lattimore was the "architect" of American policy in China and that only the exposure of the whole trend of policy prevented recognition of the Communist regime in Peiping by the United States.

The State Department has sought up to now to give the impression that the October, 1949, conference was just an informal gathering of 31 outside participants — presumably scholars and experts in Far Eastern affairs—and that Mr. Lattimore's part was quite insignificant. It seems that a stenographic record of the conference was kept but the Department of State a few days ago declined to furnish a copy of it to the Senate internal security committee when it requested the document. So Mr. Stassen revealed what he knew of the conference. It developed that, when he was told in October, 1949, that a stenographic record would be taken, he asked for a copy of the complete transcript but was refused, and he declined to participate unless he was to be given afterward at least a copy of the stenographer's record of what he himself said at the conference.

* * *

SO MR. STASSEN supplied the Senate committee with his own remarks and then a summary of the notes he took at the conference. It seems strange that the State Department would attempt to suppress what was said by 31 persons outside the federal service but such is the behavior of bureaucracy that a secret classification was given to the conference record. When Mr. Stassen was given the copy only of what he himself had said, it had on it a label warning him that the document contained "information affecting the national interest of the United States within the meaning of the espionage act."

Neither Mr. Stassen nor the senators could see any "security" reasons for suppressing this. Certainly it wasn't in a class with that famous stenographic record of the Wake Island conference which the Administration surreptitiously supplied to a newspaper. It was subsequently learned that the record by the stenographer at Wake Island was done on a "keyhole" basis without any of the principal participants knowing it was being transcribed.

This is an excellent example of the abuses which the new executive order by President Truman, requiring suppression of news at the source, makes possible. It helps the Administration cover up any inaccurate statements any government official may make and enables the Administration to prevent the disclosure of facts that contradict testimony before congressional committees by Administration witnesses. These are strange goings-on for a "left wing" Administration which boasts of its interest in "freedom of information."

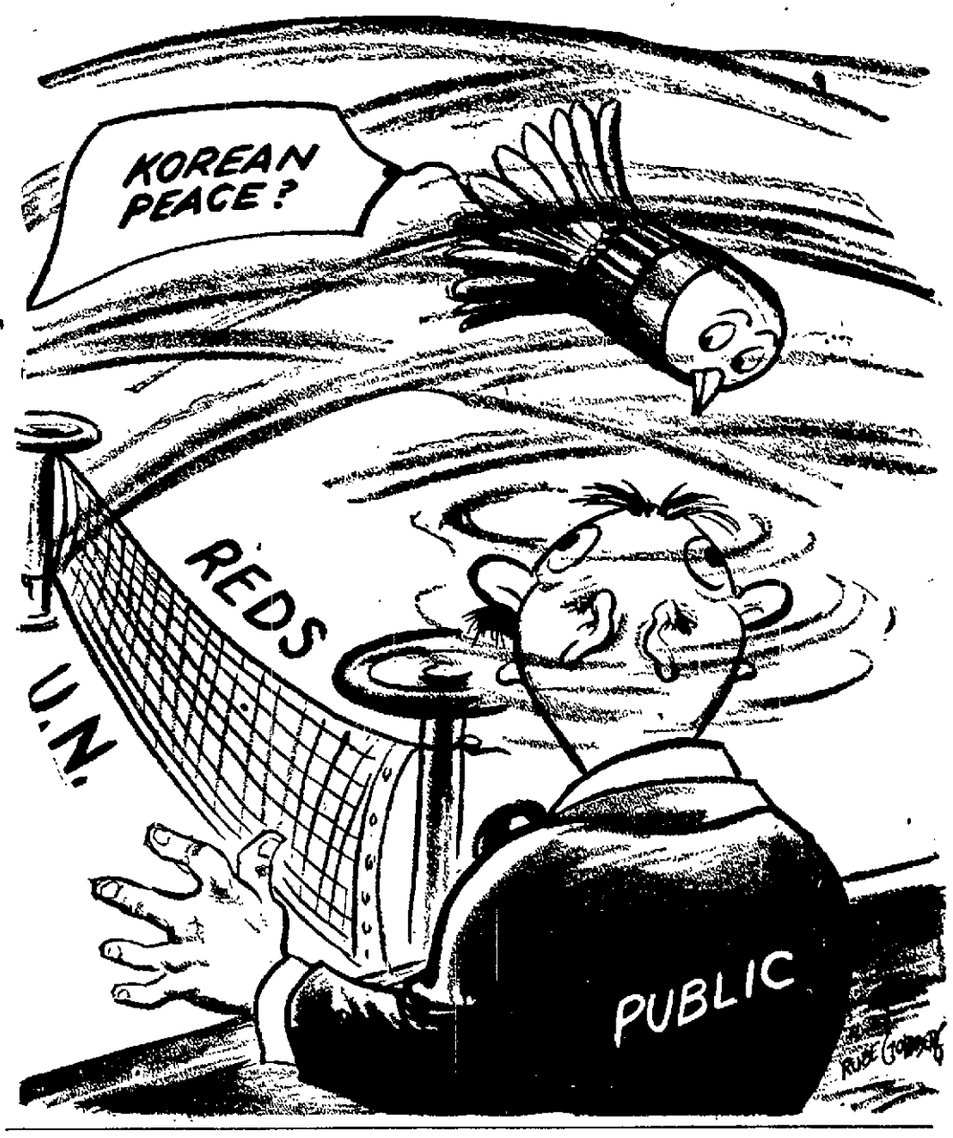
Perpetual Badminton



A Programless Party

By George E. Sokolsky

WHEREVER ONE goes these days among Republican businessmen, the conversation soon veers around to "who will be the candidates?" "Will it be Eisenhower or Taft?" "Will Truman run again?" "Can we ever get rid of that gang in Washington?"

And as is usual with businessmen, they seek a candidate with skill in salesmanship. Can he sell himself to labor, to the farmer, to young people under 30?

SOKOLSKY

Four times the Republican party devoted itself to salesmanship. They nominated the genial Alf Landon, really a delightful person with a fine mind, because it was believed he could be sold as a resurrected Abe Lincoln. They picked up Wendell Willkie and fell flat with him. Twice the banner was entrusted to Tom Dewey, but his salesmanship was inadequate.

Many of these Republican businessmen are now turning to General Eisenhower because they assume that his name is a wonderful trademark. They do not pretend to be sure that he is a Republican; they do not know what his program for international relations or the domestic economy may be. They put it on the line that no one can defeat Ike Eisenhower.

* * *

I HAVE HEARD that twice before. No one was supposed to be able to defeat Wendell Willkie. In those days, I was very close to the National Association of Manufacturers and you can hardly imagine the optimism that exuded from every industrialist's pore. But Roosevelt defeated Willkie and if the truth must be told, the fact that large numbers of Republicans did not vote that year played a part in the defeat. The same kind of optimism was evident when Dewey ran against Truman. In fact, the news that Dewey was defeated sounded unbelievable.

The answer may be that the Republicans have had no program since 1932. "Me-tooism" produces nothing substantial. If there is no objection to the guiding principles of the Truman Administration, why not vote for Truman? Eisenhower may be more attractive personally than Truman, but if there is no basic difference in principles or methods, what makes Eisenhower or Taft or Dewey or anybody superior to Truman? Some blurt the word, character.

* * *

MAYBE THAT IS what the businessmen believe that they can sell, but it seems to me that without a program, it will be very difficult to establish that one man's character is so different from another's. Character is such an imponderable that one man's likes may be another's hatred and for no rational or understandable reason.

James F. Byrnes, governor of South Carolina, in 1949 stated the program of the opposition to Truman in a speech in Biloxi, Mississippi. He said:

" . . . Our first defense is not the Elbe or the Rhine; it is a sound solvent American economy. And that economy is now threatened.

"The people who settled this country did not come here to establish a government. They were seeking liberty, not security. They were seeking an opportunity to enjoy freedom, the freedom of being left alone."

* * *

"HE SAID FURTHER: "We must emphasize the freedom of the individual who by his initiative has made America prosperous. And we cannot, very well boast of freedom under the American system if we are going to change that system and force the people to surrender more liberties to a centralized government."

In a word, what Byrnes proposed — and what the Democratic senators Byrd and George have so often emphasized—is the necessity of subordinating our international relations to our domestic necessities. Such a program, if fearlessly defined and honestly stated, could open a challenging debate on obligations, responsibilities and commitments abroad and to our own people. It would be as great a campaign as 1896. There would be no "me-tooism," no improvisations, no saying one thing in one state and just the opposite in some other state. It would not involve the technical question as to who is more photogenic on television.

It would surely not be concerned with the advantages of silence on crucial issues on the assumption that a closed mouth but a flexible mind loses no votes.

* * *

THUS FAR, the politicians among the Republicans are becoming too dependent upon the disclosure of Democratic corruption, while the businessmen overemphasized the salesmanship of a candidate. Neither, it seems to me, will suffice to win unless the Republicans develop a constructive program such as Governor Byrnes defined, or even a stronger one. A constructive program will have to offer an alternative to the Fair Deal imitation of Fabian socialism.

The Reds Snarl Softly

By TRUMAN TWILL

SINCE it now is possible for Americans to talk sympathetically about the British throne without being under suspicion of Toryism, it may as well be admitted that King George VI and his queen have been looked at with deep respect these last few years.

For that matter, so have the queen mother, Mary, and the old lady's two lovely grandchildren, Elizabeth and Margaret Rose. This royalty business in modern times has more to it than American school children are going to learn in their history classes. Even the British Communists snarl only softly when they speak of the British throne.

Human nature needs the security which comes from a common sense of continuity. People want to feel that someone is staying on the job through thick and thin, to keep hold of the loose ends. Nothing makes them more restless than to suspect no one really knows what is going on, or cares.

The British get their sense of security from two sources. Their highly trained and loyal civil service could run the country indefinitely without any politicians at all. The royal family provides institutional security. Its function lies almost wholly, in modern times, in the preservation and perfection of the ritualism which gives Britons a common footing in their collective activities.

And it is anything but a dead and dusty ritualism, because the British like to think of their royal families as being composed of normal human beings, subject to all the weaknesses of the flesh but capable of rising above them when necessary. They expect their kings, queens, princes and princesses to be adequate to all great occasions but to be decently ordinary in between times—and that is what they have been getting ever since Victoria and her devoted Albert set the pace.

Every conceivable eventuality of succession is covered. For example, if King George should have a lingering illness making him incapable of carrying on his duties, a council of state would take over. It would consist of his queen, his two daughters, the Duke of Gloucester and Princess Mary, the king's sister. The last four are the adults next in succession to the throne.

An even more stable arrangement would be to name Princess Elizabeth, first in succession in the event of her father's death, the regent. This would permit the princess to become queen in fact before she became queen in title. And under English law, nothing would be left to chance in such an arrangement. Tradition covers most eventualities, and the rest would be covered by the current generation of politicians in accordance with tradition.

In short, no matter what may happen to the king in the unfortunate illness which has befallen him, the next step will have been provided for. And millions of Britons are earnestly hoping and praying nothing may happen to this eminently decent man who has had only one duty to perform in his whole life—to be a good example to his countrymen.

There is much more to the British throne than is going to appear in American school books for another generation or two.

He went West with his people and died on the reservation about 1840.

Rear Crashes Costly

NEW YORK — (AP) — Traffic congestion in New York City is causing almost 3,000 rear-end collisions per year, 50 deaths, 2,500 injuries and about $1,000,000 in damages. The figures were compiled by the Greater New York Safety Council, which described the rear-end crash as the "most costly and most easily avoided of traffic accidents." The council warns motorists that with continued gains in traffic volume a proportionate degree of care should be exercised to maintain safe distances between vehicles.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Heartbreak Hills

("The fight for Heartbreak Hill, one of the toughest battles on the Korean front, continued."—Communique.)

I read of "Heartbreak Hill" and seem to see
The bloody height where courage meets the test
As youngsters fight to keep a people free
And give the country—and the world—their best;
But there's another Heartbreak Hill I know....
It runs down from a cottage to a lane....
And over it I see a youngster go—
And hear the distant whistle of a train!

II

There is a Heartbreak Hill my thoughts now roam....
I see a road across it on a night
The country doctor hurried to our home
To bring a baby boy so pink and white....
I cannot look upon that hill these days
Without a fearful throbbing of my heart
That comes with seeing through a smoky haze
This lad of mine cast in a grim, grave part.

III

The schoolhouse where he went lies on a slope;
The memory of him trudging there I prize:
A child with all the happiness and hope
That always shines in every youngster's eyes;
This is a Heartbreak Hill to me just now....
I see a lad, no books on this day's trip....
With dirt and mud and blood upon his brow,
A hand grenade and carbine in his grip!

IV

A valley runs along a little brook
In which he fished a very short time back;
The land then rises where it's sweet to look
And see a sandlot... hear a baseball's crack....
I see this hillside near the sunny mead....
And laughter comes and cries of "Throw it here."...
Oh, this is Heartbreak Hill to me indeed...
And how I wish for one voice ringing clear!

V

There is a hill so golden in the fall....
It hides a cool and placid swimmin' hole;
But yesterday he heard its lovely call—
And I would wave to him upon the knoll;
Another Heartbreak Hill to think of nights,
And drop upon my knees in fervent prayer
That from the Heartbreak Hill on which he fights
He will come back to this hill brooding there!

YE GOTHAM BUGLE AND BANNER

"Halley Speaks at Niagara Falls"—headline. Any truth to the rumor Tammany sent him a barrel? . . . Three video channels had the Yankee-Red Sox unimportant games on Sunday and not one bothered with the sensational Brooklyn-Philly fourteen-inning contest or the vital Giant-Braves game!!! Where's television's news sense? . . . Things that grate on our nerves: Benedictions by airwave comics who have spent most of the program desecrating just about everything wholesome and decent. . . . Cockeyed economies: An army department removing all white crosses from Hawaiian graves of our soldier dead because of the cost of upkeep, while Congress votes a few hundred thousand dollars to give every member new electric typewriters. . . . Harry Gross will appeal his 12-year prison term. Possibly claiming he had "scratched" and wasn't even running. In prison will Gross be named librarian because of his experience with books? Or put in charge of the ice? Then there's the story he will refuse to wear prison black and white stripes as they are not his racing colors. . . . Walter Winchell has signed for life with ABC for a sum totaling millions. Walter now achieves the distinction of making so much money he will have nothing left at the end of the year. How about a greeting to all the "chips" at sea, Walt? . . . Hamburgers and frankfurters now go up under OPS permission and this seems pretty sad news, as it takes most Americans off their main food. . . . On the day Harry Gross was arraigned for his sentence the hunch bet by all the horse players around the court was "Here He Is" which won at $21.10, with some going to "Bargainer" at $24.10 on the same card. Everybody laid off "Ready, Answer" which showed at $8.60.

Can You Remember

Away back when the radio and video moguls met in convention and solemnly announced that all program blueprinting crime routines would be barred and a serious effort made to protect the kids from horror programs?

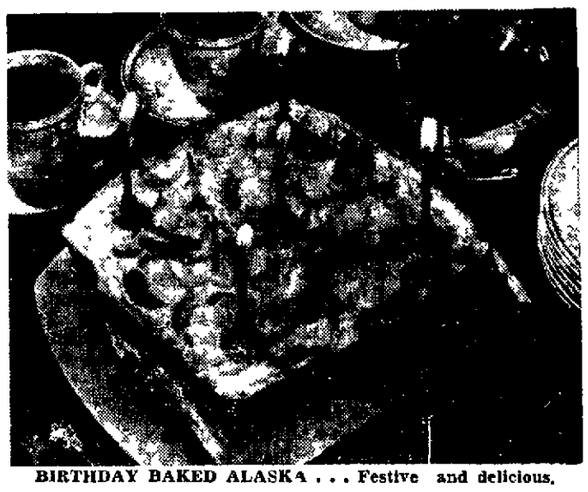
Festive Birthday Treat

READY FOR MERINGUE . . . A foolproof recipe.



BIRTHDAY BAKED ALASKA . . . Festive and delicious.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Anyone in your family having a birthday soon? Then celebrate it with a royal kind of cake—a Birthday Baked Alaska. Your guests will think you have a magical trick up your sleeve when you bring in this gorgeous creation. Pre-packaged ice cream is perfect to use for the Alaska because you can slice it easily to fit the cake base. Just make sure that when you bring the ice cream home you place it in the freezing unit, changing the cold control to fast freezing because it must be very firm when the meringue goes on top and the whole thing is popped into the oven.

BIRTHDAY BAKED ALASKA

Ingredients. ½ cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted cake flour, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons salad oil, 2 egg yolks, 3 tablespoons water, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 egg whites, ⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar.

Method: Lightly grease bottom of 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan and line with waxed paper, grease paper. Pre-heat oven to 350 F. Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt into a mixing bowl. Make a well in the middle and add salad oil, egg yolks, water, and vanilla. Beat until smooth. With clean rotary beater beat egg whites and cream of tartar very stiff. Fold in egg yolk mixture until blended. Turn into prepared pan. Bake in pre-heated oven 25 minutes. Turn upside down on rack until cake gets cold, ease cake from pan with spatula; strip off paper. Place on cookie sheet and chill in refrigerator at least an hour before adding Meringue Alaska.

MERINGUE ALASKA

Ingredients. ⅛ teaspoon salt, 4 egg whites, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup sugar, 2 pints very firm pre-packaged chocolate ice cream, chocolate sauce.

Method: Pre-heat oven to 550 F. Add salt to egg whites and beat until stiff, add vanilla. Add sugar gradually and continue beating until very stiff, reserve. Remove cake from refrigerator. Cut each pint of ice cream crosswise into 3 thick slices, place on cake—it will be about ¼-inch from sides. Spread meringue on top of ice cream and sides of cake so they are completely covered, swirl top lightly with spoon. Place in pre-heated oven and bake for 1 to 2 minutes—just until meringue is lightly browned. Remove immediately with 2 wide spatulas to platter. Decorate with candles and serve with chocolate sauce. Makes 8 to 12 servings.

Womens Bathing Suit Maker Favors Sense, Suspense

ATLANTA, Oct. 4—(INS)—A designer from Argentina declared today that sense and suspense figure in the success of a bathing suit.

Ramon LaValle, who has combed the beaches of the world to sift the likes and dislikes of sun bathers, is visiting Atlanta to pass along some of his findings. This is what he uncovered:

"Women the world over prefer the strapless, one-piece swim suit. This type shows good judgment. The one-piece style flatters every age and type figure.

"Also, its straight lines offer more opportunities for the detailed work of high fashion."

LaValle, who is now general manager of the eastern division of a large manufacturer of bathing suits, said that only small, young women with "magnificent figures"—like the maids of Florida and Louisiana—can wear two piece suits to advantage. He added:

"That is why the Bikini swim suit was such a flop in this country. Few women are built for it."

The designer admitted, however, that the Bikini was a hit with the men. But they seem content with the one-piece style "especially if it has a plunging neckline and a zipper down the front."

Miss Augenstein Becomes Bride Of Pvt. E. E. Krider

MISS VIRGINIA AUGENSTEIN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Augenstein of 380 Mt. Vernon avenue, became the bride of Pvt. Earl E. Krider Saturday evening, Sept. 22, in Emanuel Lutheran Church. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Nellie Krider of 438½ Davids street.

For the ceremony, read at 7:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. M. E. Hollensen, the altar was decorated with bouquets of yellow and bronze pompons and in the sanctuary were lighted tapers in gold candelabra, and palms. Family pews were marked with bows of white satin ribbon and greenery. A program of wedding music was by Miss Elizabeth Curren organist, and Jack Loeffert, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin fashioned with long sleeves ending in points at the wrist. Outlining the sweetheart neckline were seed pearls. The skirt ended in a train. Her fingertip veil was trimmed with pearls and she carried a white orchid showered with white ribbon on a Bible.

Miss Phyllis Bell was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Augenstein, Miss Marjorie Meister, Miss Marilyn Clark and Miss Shirley Stanley. Their gowns were fashioned with ballerena length skirts of net over taffeta and satin bodices and matching fitted jackets. Miss Bell, Miss Augenstein and Miss Meister wore gold and Miss Clark and Miss Stanley's gowns were in an emerald green shade. Their Colonial bouquets held Talisman roses and bronze pompons and matching pompons were caught in their eye veils. The flower girl, Helen Augenstein, wore a floor length frock in an emerald green shade and carried a tiny Colonial bouquet of roses and pompons.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was Richard Clark and ushers were Ray and LeRoy Krider, brothers, LeRoy Kramer and Don McElroy, brothers-in-law.

The reception for 100 guests was in the church parlors. The table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake encircled with huckleberry and gold pompons. Presiding were Miss Betty Stanley and Mrs. Franklin McClaskey.

For the wedding trip to Canada and New York the bride chose a brown suit with brown and gold accessories and wore her wedding orchid.

The bride was graduated from Harding High School with the class of 1950 and is employed with the Alloy Cast Steel Co. Pvt. Krider has been stationed at Camp Breckenridge, Ky., and is to report at Seattle, Wash., for an overseas assignment.

The rehearsal party was given by Miss Augenstein's parents at their home. The bride-elect presented her attendants with pearl chokers and Pvt. Krider's gifts to the best man and ushers were cufflinks.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

CHICAGO

SOME dramatic signal this month may unleash a military revolution against Generalissimo Franco

If the Spanish generals pull their putsch to drive the worried Falangist ruler from Madrid, the Army will be supported not only by the Monarchists, but also by the Socialist and Anarchist labor unions run by exiles in Paris and Southern French towns

There is no doubt that the Socialist UGT and the Anarchist CNT can paralyze Spain while the military move This was proven in a dry run last April, which had the secret support of the army, the police, the Monarchists and the industrialists unhappy over Spain's poverty.

Victor Riesel

Now word has come that the army is ready to move and show its strength on the military front just as the underground unions did six months ago

At the sign of the putsch, the tough Anarchist forces will pull their unions out of all shops and plants in Catalonia, where they're a force The Basque workers are expected to move down from the mountains The Andalusian miners and dynamiters will cut loose in that province And the Socialist unions will attempt to paralyze the other industrial provinces

• • •

IN OTHER WORDS, the master plan as relayed here from European labor circles to the AFL foreign experts now rushing back to New York and France, calls for an anti-Franco united front of all forces, from Anarchists to Monarchists — but not the Communists

They are pledged to a restoration of the crown under Don Juan, who seeks the throne.

These reports, according to the AFL's international agents, have caused Gen Eisenhower to slow his moves towards merging Spain into the European defense force

There can be no doubt as to the authenticity of these messages to the AFL people. The word comes from their own liaison operatives, who contacted not only the Socialist and Anarchist unions and the Spanish "government" in exile, which the AFL has been supporting financially, but military and Monarchist circles as well.

There is doubt, however, over the time-table

• • •

THE TENSE SPANISH crisis is analogous to the moment just before "Munich" in 1938, Irving Brown, the AFL's chief European representative, pointed out At that time the widely-respected German General Von Beck had organized an airtight plot to kill off a man by the name of Adolf Hitler Der Fuehrer's prestige and power had sagged Then came Munich, when the West capitulated and a weary old man called Chamberlain depressed by the haunting knowledge that he had but two anti-aircraft guns in London and 500 old-line planes surrounding the city, returned to Croydon airport announcing peace in our time.

After Munich, Herr Hitler's prestige zoomed Beck's plot was doomed So was the general He and his co-conspirators were executed

Here then is the analogy in the Spansh situation

Gen Franco is much bolstered by American aid and the visits of our military, Naval and diplomatic personnel, says the AFL expert The Generalissimo has furiously been wooing all sides in unpublicized conversations Not only has he sought out Don Juan, but he has been seeking Spanish and American labor support.

• • •

FOR MORE THAN a year now, Franco has had a standing offer made through some U S government officials, to play host to a delegation of AFL and CIO leaders so they can see for themselves how his Falangist unions operate These invitations have been ignored.

To effect a reconciliation with the underground unions inside Spain, Franco has sent word down that he would soon remove Minister of Labor Giral, a hard man the Spanish workers particularly hate

At the same time Gen Franco has sought to appease disgruntled business men by changing the Minister of Industry

But the friends he may have won in these approaches could never match in strength the rehabilitated prestige which he will draw from the American Commission now in Spain, surveying his needs Soon it will be turning over to him $62,500 000—unconditionally Much can be done to rehabilitate that unhappy land with these stacks of American dollars

When that rehabitation process is over, Franco will be stronger.

So strong in fact that even the sign of things to come may be enough to postpone the putsch

Series Madness

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

BASEBALL has had more crises this year than the United Nations

If America survives the present World Series, nothing should ever get it down

For the national pastime in 1951 became a national disease It is doubtful whether anything has stirred the people up more since the sinking of the battleship Maine Or divided them more since the Civil War

The World Series itself comes as something of an anti-climax to the whing-ding playoff games in the National League between the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers

Hal Boyle

These crucial contests did more to raise the blood pressure of the average fan than if you had put a bicycle pump in his veins

They caused folk to forget the realities of taxes, politics, and international tensions. They broke up lifelong loyalties and created new ones They turned friend against friend They caused ordinary hen-pecked men to become wife beaters—"If I'd known you were for the Dodgers I'd never a-married you" They caused wives to throw drinks in their husband's face with a snarling, "Why should you be or the Giants, you—you mouse"

• • •

HERE IN NEW YORK the temperature every day went five degrees above the Weather Bureau's forecast because of the hot air stirred up by arguing fans I don't ever remember a season where everybody buried his own troubles more in the troubles of his team

"You think I'm kidding" After the Giants lost the second game 10 to 0 one angry fellow rushed over and bit his television set in the leg

In Brooklyn a lawyer broke down and wept openly after the Dodgers lost the first game, His wondering wife, who somehow had escaped the general madness, looked at him and said

"He wouldn't waste that many tears on me if I dropped down dead"

Of course that's just like a woman They take everything personal

IN UPPER MANHATTAN, a stronghold of the Giants, a 13-year-old girl paid her six-year-old sister and four-year-old brother a nickel each to pray for her team

"I can't pray myself" she explained "I have to listen to the game on the radio."

After praying the Giants in successfully in the first contest, the two small children struck for higher pay.

"A nickel isn't very much," said the little boy. "Our kneeses is sore"

The reaction of a visiting young Swedish woman to our tempest-in-a-horsehide was interesting Taken by friends to see her first game she gazed astounded at the uproar in the stands

• • •

SHE APPEARED MYSTIFIED at first but gradually she became more and more absorbed in the plays Her friends thought she was catching on fine until she asked late in the ninth inning

'I understand everything now except why that one man keeps throwing the ball at that other group of men there"

The group consisted of the batter, the catcher, and the umpire.

"Oh, well, in another few days it will be over Then, if you cut open the head of the most rabid fan you wouldn't even find a single baseball

You'd find a football.

Ohio P.-T.A. Convention Hears Leader

COLUMBUS, Oct. 4—(AP)—Mrs. John E Hayes, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, yesterday urged Americans to abandon unfounded criticism of governmental agencies and political leaders.

In the keynote address to the golden jubilee convention of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers here, she said Americans should recognize "that any power which has been abused may be withdrawn by a vote of the people, and that trusted officials proved to be unworthy, may be appropriately punished."

"In the process, however, she said, "we need not destroy the faith of the younger generation in government of the people, by the people, and for the people."

Mrs Hayes said youth must learn that freedom must be earned by each generation.

She said every boy and girl needs the "firm conviction that representative government, underlaid with justice, and law, will sustain individual dignity and permit the search for truth."

She said parent-teachers associations can help unite communities "without running the gauntlet of accusations, disunion, schism, and loss of valuable personnel, and educational leadership."

The convention will continue through Friday.

Finnegan Is Recalled In Tax Inquiry

More Details Sought On 'Outside' Interests Of Former Collector

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—(AP)—House investigators today recalled James P. Finnegan for more information about his outside business activities while serving as collector of internal revenue in St. Louis.

Finnegan told a House ways and means subcommittee yesterday he received $2,250 in 1948 and 1949 from delinquent taxpayers—but only as legal fees for services unrelated to tax matters.

He faced further questioning as the committee resumed hearings today.

The committee also summoned St. Louis insurance men for questioning about Finnegan's alleged interests in connection with insurance sales while collector of revenue.

Probing Irregularities

The committee, headed by Rep. King (D-Calif), is inquring into recently disclosed irregularities in the Internal Revenue Bureau which have led to the resignation, firing or suspension of four collectors and wholesale shakeup of the northern California collector's staff.

Finnegan resigned as collector at St. Louis last April after seven years in office. A St. Louis grand jury now is investigating his activities. Senate investigators recently disclosed he was on the payroll of the American Lithofold Corp., a printing firm with large government contracts.

Before Finnegan took the witness chair yesterday, Internal Revenue commissioner John B. Dunlap told the committee that outside business activity by politically-appointed collectors was "unquestionably" a major source of trouble for the bureau.

Given Free Hand

Saying he had been given a "free hand" by President Truman to restore public confidence in the nation's tax collectors, Dunlap disclosed he had ordered tax returns of all Internal Revenue employes checked for three years back.

In an order dated last Monday, Dunlap also directed that returns be examined each year in the future for evidence of corruption.

Finnegan readily admitted receiving checks totaling $2,250 from Karol Kell Corp., a St. Louis dress-making company; Yosel Creation Sales Corp.; and Samuel Abramovitz, a contractor with financial interests in the dress-making company.

Internal revenue agent Henry E. Rathert, and deputy collector Louis R. Ligibel, of St. Louis, testified the Karol Kell Corp. and Abramovitz were in arrears on their taxes in 1948 and 1949 when the payments were made to Finnegan.

Truman

slick magazines and the newspapers."

He did not give the newsmen any specific guidance, however. He suggested that patriotism should govern what they publish regardless of what they receive from government sources.

In a formal statement which preceded the debate with the reporters, the President declared there has been "considerable misrepresentation and misunderstanding" of his executive order requiring civilian agencies of government to classify security information.

He called the order a reasonable approach to a difficult problem, but said he will be glad to change it if experience indicates it should be changed.

Will Cooperate

Questioned on other subjects the President said every agency of the government will cooperate to enforce meat price controls.

He did not disclose specific agencies expected to participate in the price enforcement drive.

He replied with an emphatic no when he was asked whether the government is going to lift controls on beef.

The President said John Foster Dulles turned down appointment as ambassador to Japan in order to help keep the Republican party from going isolationist.

He told a news conference he offered the G.O.P. foreign policy advisor to the state department the Tokyo post when Dulles called on him earlier this week.

He said Dulles told him he didn't believe he should take the job, that he thought he should stay in civil life and try to help save the Republican party from going isolationist.

News From Russia Prods Defense Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—(AP)—Word that Russia has exploded a second atom bomb was counted on to speed final House action today on a $57,200,000,000 defense money bill.

"I can't conceive of any opposition to building up quickly our defenses and our offensive power," Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) told newsmen. "It is obvious that Russia isn't devoting her energies and money to peaceful pursuits. If Russia is developing and perfecting atom bombs, she isn't doing it for scientific purposes."

There are no funds in the big bill for the Atomic Energy Commission, which has been financed in a separate measure and has more money coming in another bill.

Troubles Beset British As Election Nears

LONDON, Oct. 4—(AP)—A tense House of Commons gathered today to wind up its affairs, angry over the loss of the oil refinery at Abadan and shocked by the nose dive of Britain's gold and dollar assets.

Members are scheduled to hear a proclamation from the king dissolving parliament and clearing the way for the Oct. 25 elections.

Both the loss of Iranian oil and the country's financial plight are expected to be hot issues.

There were signs of such bitterness among members over the government's abandonment of the huge Abadan plant that the impartial Speaker of the House was prepared to halt any effort to discuss it in order to preserve traditional decorum.

While Britain was staggering at the loss of Abadan, its single greatest foreign investment, the chancellor of the exchequer, Hugh Gaitskell, came outh with more bad news.

He told the country last night that gold and dollar reserves of the British-banked sterling area had shrunk by $598,000,000 in the past three months and were now only $3,269,000,000. Members of the sterling bloc are Burma, Iraq, Iceland and all members of the commonwealth except Canada.

This is the worst economic position Britain has been in since the crisis of 1949 forced devaluation of the pound from $4.03 to $2.80.

In the past, the solicitor has received $1,200 a year and he has been given $600 annually for clerical help. With the increase, he will pay a clerk out of his salary. All seven members of council are candidates for re-election.

QUICK OK SEEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—(AP)—A bill authorizing a $7,438,400,000 program of foreign military and economic aid appeared to face only token opposition in the House today. Author of Anti-Trust Law Lived in Mansfield

Galion Woman Recalls Days of John Sherman

GALION—As if it were yesterday, Mrs. Anna Bennett, 81, of Galion, recalls experiences she had while a member of the household staff of John Sherman, one of the most influential statesman ever to come from hio. She was in both his Mansfield and Wasington residences.

Sherman, the author of the famous silver and anti-trust laws that bear his name, and a brother of the Union general, William T. Sherman, entered the Senate as a Republican from Ohio in 1861. He was secretary of the Treasury in 1877 by appointment of President Hayes, and at the close of the presidential term again became senator until 1897. President McKinley appointed him Secretary of State in 1897, but great strain when war broke out with Spain in 1898, forced him to retire.

"I cherish the memories I have of my life while I lived with the Sherman family, both in Mansfield where I spent six years, and the six years I lived with the family in Washington,' Mrs. Bennett said. She makes her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Finical of Galion.

Remembers Sherman

"I remember Senator Sherman as a tall, fine-looking man, highly respected by all who worked for him. Everyone seemed to like the whole family," Mrs. Bennett recalls.

The picture of life as Mrs. Bennett remembers the Shermans lived it, is one of comfort, and entirely different than present-day living. The old mansion of the Shermans was located in Mansfield. The home was torn down and several houses are now located on the site.

"President McKinley was a guest in the Sherman's residence in Washington on K street. I remember that Mrs. McKinley was an invalid and was brought in a chair. There never were any drinks served at the meals where McKinley was present, and not any home in Washington was permitted to serve intoxicating liquors at dinners while McKinley was present," Mrs. Bennett said.

Born in Germany

Mrs. Bennett was born in Germany, Aug. 23, 1870. She came to Shelby with her parents when she was 11 years old. She attended the Shelby schools for three years to learn to read and write English. Her education was considered complete at the age of 13. When she was 18 years old she answered an ad in the Mansfield paper, she said. for a hired girl at the Park Avenue West residence of Senator John Sherman.

Mrs. Bennett was then Miss Anna Scheck. After her 12 years with the Shermans, she left them in 1900 when she became the bride of Frank Bennett of Shelby. He died in 1929, and for the past 14 years Mrs. Bennett has lived in Galion with her son-in-law and daughter.

Believes Safety Officer Should Get More Pay

Galion Mayor's Veto Holds Up Pay Raises

GALION—A veto by Mayor Jay F. Nichols on a pay ordinance passed Sept, 18, 1951, holds up pay raises to members of the police and fire departments. The mayor's veto was read Tuesday at the regular meeting of City Council.

In his absence the mayor's communication was read by his son, James A. Nichols, clerk of council. It read as follows: "I am hereby returning ordinance No 2977, passed Sept. 18, 1951, unsigned I am vetoing this because I feel that the Safety Officer should be increased to $285 per month as the duties of said officer entails considerable work and extra time over and above that required of regular officers in the department."

Veto Accepted

The veto was accepted and made a matter of record after some discussion. No action can be taken on the ordinance for 10 days after the veto was read, it was pointed out by councilmen.

Comments by councilmen were to the effect that it was not fair to hold up legislation for other members of the department for one count . . . that because it was felt necessary to pass the ordinance two weeks ago by suspending the rules, it should be passed now . . . that the mayor should be heard on his one point for veto . . . that the ordinance should have been passed as an organizational ordinance which would make the safety officer a captain, lieutenant or the proper rank for this vicinity . . . that he should be paid the same as a captain because of the duties the job entails.

Council Takes No Action

At the close of the meeting when another ordinance was presented to raise the pay of members of the fire department alone, councilmen took no action. Some explained that there was no point in passing several pay ordinances, and that these should be combined in the one ordinance. Service Director J. A. Anker explained that firemen thought it unfair, since the mayor vetoed the other ordinance, because firemen would lose a month's raise waiting for the police department raise.

A voice we all loved is stilled
A place is vacant in our home

Your end was sudden my dear
You made us weep and cry
But the saddest part of it all
You never said goodby
Little did we think when leaving home
That you would return no more,
That you in death would sleep alone
And leave us here to mourn
But its not ours to know the reason why
From loved ones we must part
But ours to live in hope and faith

Bucyrus Firemen To Be Paid For Helmets, Boots

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS Oct 4—Members of the Bucyrus fire department finally will be reimbursed for individual purchases of boots and helmets, city councilmen were assured today by Mayor Frank P Sitler.

Fire Chief William F Mader who at 86 is Ohio's oldest fire chief both in years of service and in age has declined to pay firemen for the boots and helmets they purchased more than a year ago

Mayor Sitler said he will settle the controversy and assured councilmen that the men will be reimbursed within the next two weeks.

Chief Mader maintained that boots and helmets are not apparatus and could not be paid out of the apparatus fund He also asserted that the apparatus fund would be depleted if the firemen were paid for their private-purchased equipment out of this fund

City Auditor James Berry said he had informed the chief that case of an emergency, other funds payments could be made from would be available for purchase the apparatus fund and that most needed apparatus.

Group Endorses School Levy, Family Service Society

Foremen's Club Hears Central Soya Official at Season's First Meeting

The Marion Foremen's Club, affiliated with the National Association of Foremen, inaugurated a new series of meetings for the 1951-52 season, Tuesday night at Columbian Hall.

Featured speaker was Paul E. Hensel, personnel director of the Central Soya Co. of Fort Wayne, Ind. Mr. Hensel discussed "The Business Principles of Industry." He was introduced by Paul McCleary, assistant superintendent of McMillen Feed Mills, a Central Soya subsidiary.

Mr. Hensel spoke on the im-

Mr. Hensel spoke on the important role played by industry in helping to preserve the American way of life. He pointed to increased industrial outputs which have made the United States the world's top-ranking nation. He said our business system was good because it creates wealth and renders services to help in raising our standard of living.

ROBERT HALDEMAN
Foremen's Club President

Based On Competition

"Competition is the basis of our free market," he said in praising the capitalistic system in the U. S. He added that capitalism stimulates the making of more good things because of the competitive system used in a free nation.

He told the group it was the responsibility of foremen in industries to keep the company at top production of top-quality materials. He listed four rules for foremen to follow in becoming efficient. Those were (1) know your goal, (2) plan your work, (3) train employes and (4) be a leader. He concluded by labeling the foremen as the "ranking diplomats of the free enterprise system."

New Officers In Charge

Newly-elected officers of the Foremen's Club were in charge of the meeting, headed by Robert Haldeman, president.

Other officials of the club, which is representative of the majority of Marion's industrial plants, are:

Emmett Osterholt, first vice president and program chairman; Paul Shelton, second vice president; H. E. Webster, secretary; Charles W. Ziegler, financial secretary; Judson Kerr, treasurer. Paul McCleary, Eric Williams, Fred Schultz, Don Penry, Francis T. Hartman, Tom Clark, Garold W. Armbruster and Robert Higley, board of directors.

Twenty-five guests were introduced. One new member, was introduced by Eric Williams, district supervisor of trade and industrial publications, state department of education. He was Floyd Gehres, new trade and industrial education supervisor of Harding High School.

Society Levy Endorsed

Unanimous endorsement was given by the Foremen's Club to the establishment of the Marion County Family Service Society as an agency of the Community Chest, and the four-mill levy for city school operating expenses.

The school levy project was presented to the foremen by Eric Williams.

The Marion County Family Service Society was presented by a panel of speakers in a series of brief talks and a discussion led by Edwin J. Kinter, vice president of the Fulfillment Corporation of America and chairman of a committee for planning the society.

Taking part in the discussion were Cleo Ludwig, president of the Community Foundation, Judge Edward J. Ruzzo of the Juvenile Court, Ellis Oiler, president of the C.I.O. Council, Ray Beverly, agent of the Machinists' Union, A. F. of L., Dr. Frederick W. Rea, J. E. Oliphant and Mr. Kinter.

Speakers on the discussion panel stated that they had been interested for a long time in the possibility of contacting a form of action which will help solve the family service problem.

Club President Robert Haldeman appointed the following committee chairmen for club activities: entertainment chairman, James Arnold; program chairman, Emmett Osterholt, assisted by Harold H. Douthitt; publicity chairman, Ivan Johnson.

Members of the entertainment committee are James Arnold, Tom Pake, Willard Nagel and Elmer Hoffman, all from Marion Power Shovel Co.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. —Adv.

National Assoc. of Foremen Names Marion Man To Office

Harold H. Douthitt, director of industrial relations at the Marion Power Shovel Co., was elected vice president of Zone C of the National Association of Foremen at the annual convention held Sept. 27-29 at Chicago.

Announcement of his election was made Tuesday night at the opening fall meeting of the Marion Foreman's Club. Mr. Douthitt is a former program chairman of the Marion group.

Mr. Douthitt's zone includes Ohio and West Virginia. A former member of the national association's board of directors, he was the Marion group's delegate to the three-day convention held at Hotel Sherman. At one time, he served as chairman of the organization's ways and means committee.

HAROLD H. DOUTHITT

Gives Convention Report

Reporting on the Chicago convention at the local club's meeting, Mr. Douthitt acclaimed the national meeting as indicative of marked progress. Within the last year, he said, the N. A. F. has increased its membership from the 1950 total to 40,898 to 44,307. The national organization ended the year with 305 member management clubs including six new Ohio clubs.

Mr. Douthitt brought to the members of the Marion Foremen's Club the position of the N. A. F. in regard to a statement made by Labor Secretary Tobin pertaining to the organization of non-supervisory personnel and foremen.

Quoting from the National Association's statement in its reply to Secretary Tobin, he said, "If they wish to join an organization, they should join one that provides them with a means of developing—for becoming more effective workers and promoting not only their own welfare but the welfare of the company. We do not believe that they should join an organization which uses force as a basic means of getting what they want.

"This leads us to a question which we have been asked many times—do you believe in unions? Our answer must be in harmony with our fundamental policy given above. Where unions help to develop the man as a worker, when they help to promote the welfare not only of the worker but also of the company, then we believe in unions. Where they don't do this, we don't believe in them."

Management Day

A proclamation establishing American Management Day, to be observed each year during September, a project which was adopted by the N. A. F. convention at Chicago, was read by Mr. Douthitt. It is a recognition of the American way of life, which has been created by the products of American industry.

American Management Day was observed at the annual dinner-meeting of the Marion Foremen's Club at the Marion Country Club Sept. 11, when 23 leaders of Marion industries were honored.

Justices Hold Public Housing As Tax Exempt

COLUMBUS, Oct. 4—(AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court yesterday denied a rehearing on a tax exemption case involving Cincinnati's Lincoln Court housing project.

The case has been viewed as a test of a state law making public housing projects tax exempt. The Supreme Court previously had upheld the constitutionality of that law, which was passed two years ago.

Five judges at the time said they thought the law unconstitutional, while two dissented. Six judges must agree in order to declare a law unconstitutional.

The state board of tax appeals exempted the Cincinnati housing project in order to bring the matter into court for a test. At one time, such property was not tax exempt because it was not used solely for public purposes.

Carl A. Strauss, a taxpayer, the Cincinnati real estate board, and others, appealed to the Supreme Court.

After the court's decision to leave the project tax exempt, the board of appeals ordered the Hamilton county auditor to remove it from the tax duplicate for 1950 and place it on the tax exempt list.

BALANCES SCALES

NASHUA, N. H. (UP)—Former Nashua Mayor Hugh Gregg, now in the Army, recently was granted a special leave to be one of three umpires in an aldermen's-policemen's baseball game. The aldermen invited Gregg, a former alderman, because they felt they would "get a break" since the other two umpires were the city's fire chief and police chief.

Mobile Units To Aid Ohio Civil Defense

COLUMBUS, Oct. 4—(AP)—Mobile support forces will go to the aid of any Ohio city suffering an atomic bombing, state Civil Defense officials said yesterday.

Initial plans call for the organization of 10 mobile support groups. Maj. Gen. Leo M Kreber, state adjutant general said Lt. Col. Roy Horn of Columbus will be coordinator of the forces in Ohio.

The forces will be formed from engineering, rescue, fire, police, medical and welfare services.

The units will speed to any city suffering heavy enough bomb damage to make local facilities inadequate to cope with the situation. The units also could be sent to neighboring states if the need arises, officials said.

Units will be recruited voluntarily in areas outside the critical target cities.

Training School Gets 38 Head Of Feeder Cattle

The Marion Training School has received 38 head of feeder cattle purchased by the State Welfare Department to be used to feed the inmates at the school.

Lamoyne Green, superintendent of the school, said the cattle will supplement the more than 100 milk and beef cattle the school now raises on its farm. He said the inmates raise "more than enough" feed for their own cattle.

The cattle received here are part of 452 head allotment purchased by the welfare department at the Kansas City, Mo. market at a total cost of about $110,000, The Associated Press reported.

The cattle have been sent to the nine Welfare Department institutional farms at Marysville, Grafton, Lancaster, London, Marion, Mount Vernon, Apple Creek, Orient and Hawthornden.

Director John H. Lamneck said the cattle would be fed for about six months with grain and forage produced on the farms and then slaughtered for use in the institutions.

The department purchases feeder cattle in the spring and fall each year.

Dayton OKs Protest Parade Against U.N.

DAYTON, O., Oct. 4—(AP)—A permit to stage a demonstration parade against the United Nations was issued by Dayton police yesterday.

Capt. Roy T. Sheppard said the National Security League is scheduled to hold the parade Oct. 24. Mayor Louis W. Lohry has designated the week of October 21 to 27 as United Nations Week in Dayton

The group's application for the parade permit stated its purpose is to protest against display of the U. N. flag alongside the American flag.

A spokesman for the National Security League, which was founded here in 1949, said the league's purpose is to foster Democratic principles in the United States.

DRIVER FINED $20

Woodrow Finerty, 23, of Rush, Ky., was arrested by state highway patrolmen yesterday at 4 p.m. on Route 23 on a charge of failing to register his automobile. He pleaded guilty before L. C. Schoenberger, justice of the peace in Upper Sandusky, and was fined $20 and costs.

Commissioners View Road Sites

Marion County commissioners today viewed proposed road sites in the Wheeler housing development just east of the city of Marion. Twelve property owners in the development have filed a petition with the commissioners seeking construction of eight 50-foot roadways within the development.

The first public hearing on the petition has been set for Oct. 18 at 10 a.m. by the commissioners.

The development is located on land formerly owned by H. Melvin Wheeler and George A. Young just east of the city on Route 30-S.

Giants Open Series After Dramatic Pennant Clincher, 5-4

CENTER OF ATTRACTION. Bobby Thomson, whose three-run homer in last of ninth inning won National League pennant for New York Giants, is mobbed by fans and teammates as they raise him to their shoulders to carry him from field. Giants won, 5-4 over Dodgers on Bobby's dramatic clout.

Thomson's Clutch Homer In Ninth Kills Dodger Hope

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 4—(AP)—The incredible New York Giants miracle men of '51 charge into the World Series today in the familiar but becoming role of 8 to 5 underdogs to the seasoned New York Yankees.

Floating on a pink cloud in a world all their own after the greatest comeback in baseball history, the Giants faced the stern reality of Allie (double no-hit) Reynolds (17-8) in the Yankee Stadium opener at 1:00 p. m. (E.S.T.).

To meet this challenge of the well-fed Yanks, accustomed to World Series hullabaloo, Manager Leo Durocher has named Dave Koslo (10-9), a journeyman southpaw who hasn't started in two weeks. It's another gamble by take-a-chance-Leo in a series of inspired managerial moves.

Noting that lefthanders gave the Yanks fits all season—and Yogi Berra in particular—Leo reached for the only lefty starter on his arm-weary staff. Koslo spends at least half his time in the bullpen, except when his "cousins" from St. Louis are in town.

Down, But Never Out

No matter what Leo does, the Yanks who watched the Giants snatch yesterday's dramatic 5-4 clincher from Brooklyn, will not take his club lightly. The record books show the Giants often are down—but never out.

Bobby Thomson's three-run homer into the lower left field seats in the ninth inning was one of the most dramatic blows ever struck. It rescued the Giants from the brink of disaster and wrenched a pennant from the grip of the desperate Dodgers. In dollars and cents it probably meant about $200,000 to the winning athletes in World Series money.

To appreciate the full drama of the occasion you must know the background. How the Giants flopped in a miserable 11-game losing streak in April. How they were given up for dead Aug. 11, trailing the Brooklyn master race by 13½ games. How they clawed back, game by game, until they tied Brooklyn and forced the second National League playoff.

Winning the first playoff game, 3-1, losing the second, 10-0, they were backed up against the wall in the ninth inning of the final game.

After pulling up to tie in the seventh, they saw their hard work go down the drain in the eighth when Sal Maglie wild pitched one run home and the Dodgers hammered home two more with their bats.

Faint Hope

Trailing 4-1 in the ninth with Big Don Newcombe firing a four-hitter, Al Dark stirred a faint hope with a single off Gil Hodges' glove. When Don Mueller singled, the Polo Grounds settlement of 34,320 began to stir. But Monte Irvin fouled to Hodges for out No. 1.

Whitey Lockman set the joint jumping with a double off the left field wall to score Dark, narrowing the gap to 4-2. Sliding into third on the hit, Mueller twisted his ankle and was carried from the field. On the way he passed Ralph Branca, striding in to replace the weary Newcombe.

Thomson, the goat on some bonehead base running and inadequate fielding, looked at a called strike. The next pitch was a high fast ball and the Scot from Staten Island slammed a sinking liner that just cleared the high green wall in front of the lower left field seats.

A hoarse roar echoed off Coogan's Bluff as Thomson rounded the bases with a wide grin. Wild-eyed Giants pounded Thomson's back and climbed on his shoulders as they loosened the pent-up emotion of weeks of back-bending strain.

The old Polo grounds which saw the great John McGraw's teams of years ago never saw any wilder victory celebration than it did yesterday afternoon. Thousands grouped on the centerfield grass and raised volleys of cheers toward the club house windows.

They yelled for Thomson. They yelled for Durocher. They yelled for anybody. It didn't make any difference. No pennant had flown from the Polo Grounds flagpole since 1937 and they were making the most of it.

History Repeat?

If history repeats itself, this determined Giant club could go on to win the series too.

The 1914 Boston Braves, miracle men of their day when they surged from last to first to win the pennant, swept past the favored A's in four straight.

In 1942 the Cardinals stormed past Brooklyn in the stretch and knocked off the Yankees in a tremendous upset.

Both playoff winners—the Cardinals in 1946 and Cleveland in the American League in 1948—went on to win the series. And the Chicago Cubs of 1908 that beat the Giants in a tie playoff game after the regular season, also won the world championship.

But the cold facts show Casey Stengel's Yanks all set with a solid rested pitching trio of Reynolds, Vic Raschi and Eddie Lopat to throw at the Giants. Durocher must piece together his staff after the terrific strain of the last seven weeks to face a team that has won three straight American League championships and two series.

SPILLED, BUT HELD BALL. Catcher Wes Westrum of the New York Giants spilled Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers in this fashion at second base in third inning of final National League playoff game at New York. Westrum has walked, and was advancing to second on Sal Maglie's bunt to Don Newcombe. Newcombe's throw was low but Pee Wee caught it on a short hop a moment before Westrum sent him sprawling. Reese still held the ball.

Lopez Given New Contract, Salary Boost

NEW YORK, Oct. 4—(AP)—Al Lopez didn't quite engineer his Cleveland Indians into the American League pennant, but he came so close the Tribe front office has given him a new contract with a salary boost.

Terms of the new two-year contract weren't disclosed when the announcement was made here last night by Tribe President Ellis Ryan, but it was believed the manager's pay was increased from 30,000 to $40,000 annually.

"We think so highly of Lopez's performance that we are giving him this new two-year contract at an increase in salary," Ryan said.

The past season was Lopez's first as manager of the club and his old contract had another year to run.

Although most of the experts predicted at the beginning of the season that the Indians would end up in third place, they came in second, giving the New York Yankees a terrific battle until the final week of the race.

Ryan, who came here with Lopez and other Tribe officials to attend the National League playoff and the World Series, told reporters:

"The action was taken at this time so that Lopez would feel no undue pressure."

Sands Fails To Impress

CHICAGO, Oct. 4—(AP)—The American debut of British Empire middleweight champion Dave Sands indicated Sugar Ray Robinson's world title won't go to Sands' native Australia for sometime, if ever.

Before a paltry Chicago Stadium crowd of 2,279 last night, Sands won an unanimous decision over Hawaii's Carl (Bobo) Olson in a dull 10-rounder that found Sands in a bad way at the finish.

Sands, fighting for a promised shot at Robinson's crown, wove and punched with both fists creditably, but at the end he was so weary he was hanging on desperately.

If the fight went one more round, Olson might have hung a finishing punch on Sand's jaw which was unprotected most of the 10th round.

"Co" is the chemical symbol for cobalt.

Victory Leaves Giants, Fans Still Dazed

NEW YORK, Oct 4—(AP)—Pertinent club house remarks heard yesterday after the New York Giants beat out the Brooklyn Dodgers for the National League pennant with a thrilling ninth-inning 5-4 victory.

Bobby Thomson — "The good Lord was on my side."

Leo Durocher—"That was the best 25-man job I've ever seen."

Horace Stoneham — (Giant president)—"This club collectively is the greatest club I ever owned."

Alvin Dark — "The World Series? Oh, yeah. But that doesn't start until tomorrow. Right now all I want to do is go to sleep."

Lou Jorda (plate umpire)—"It was the greatest thrill I ever had."

Fred Fitzsimmons (coach)—"This is a greater club than any I played on." (Was with '33-36-37 Giants, '41 Dodgers and '48 Braves).

Monte Irvin—"I'm numb. Tell me, what happened?"

Jackie Robinson (Dodger second baseman) — "One minute we're the champions, the next we're in the outhouse."

Prexy Runners Win 15th Straight Meet

Harding High School's cross country runners posted an impressive 15-47 win over Springfield yesterday at the Marion Country Club. It was the 15th consecutive win for the Prexy runners.

Captain Ted Price of Harding notched his first win of the season as he led the pack over the course in 11 minutes, four seconds. Frank Green, a junior runner for Coach Ken Somerlot's crew, came in second in 11:07. John Ashworth was third. For the first mile and a quarter, Springfield's Kennerly kept pace with Price but the local runner stepped up the tempo to win going away.

Harding's big five were Price, Green, Ashworth, Coulson and Dee Price. They copped the five top spots for the second meet in a row. Sophomore Dick Bollinger finished seventh for Harding.

Next Tuesday, the local harriers will travel to Mansfield for a return engagement with the Tyger crew and on Thursday, Oct. 10, will entertain Fremont Ross at the Country Club.

Olympic Champ In Stanford Lineup Against Michigan

STANFORD, Calif., Oct. 3—(AP)—Olympic Decathlon Champion Bob Mathias will make his college varsity football debut Saturday at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Stanford Coach Chuck Taylor today named the Tulare, Calif., track and field star, to Stanford's 38-man travelling squad for the Michigan game.

And, said Taylor, "Mathias will see action against Michigan."

"He's not going along because of his reputation as a trackman, but because he shook off leg and toe injuries and made the squad during rugged scrimmages this week," Taylor said. "There are still rough edges, but he has proved to me he can play the game."

Iberia "9" Trims Green Camp

Special to The Star

IBERIA, Oct. 4 — The Iberia Presidents defeated Green Camp 7-2 yesterday at the Marion County diamond. It was the final game of the fall baseball season and gave the locals a record of six wins and two losses.

Dick Maidens, Iberia hurler, whiffed 11 Green Camp batters and blasted a sixth inning homerun. Chuck Miley paced the Iberia hitters by belting a triple and a double. Dick Weston, Green Camp pitcher, also posted 11 strikeouts.

Hornsby Eyes Major Leagues

SEATTLE, Oct. 4 — (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, the man who guided Seattle's Pacific Coast League Rainiers to the circuit's 1951 championship, had a free hand today to look for the major league job he wants.

Because, as of yesterday evening, the "Rajah" was through with the Rainiers—and you may take the word of Owner Emil Sick for that.

"We gave Hornsby a week to sign. He has not given me the courtesy of an answer. We're in the market for a new manager," said Sick.

An inch of rainfall on an acre of ground is equivalent to 3,630 cubic feet or 226,512 pounds of water.

STRONG FOR HARDING The Star Gazers are all strong for Harding to down Fostoria tomorrow night in their weekly football predictions Last week all four were 100 percent wrong when they saw nothing but defeat for the Prexies by a strong Columbus Central eleven

They all picked Lima St Rose over St Mary and were correct when the visiting Pirates won 13-6 This week they again give the nod to Irish opposition in Tiffin Calvert

The Harding-Fostoria clash looms as a tossup in Bucyeke League competition. The Prexies are about due for a letdown after being up for both Bowling Green and Columbus Central Keeping a team keyed-up for three weeks running is a big task, but apparently the board believes the Prexies can do it

NOD TO PIRATES The prognosticators pick Cardington to win its 13th straight despite Richwood's impressive victory over Mt Gilead

SCHEDULE Games this week include Fostoria at Harding St Mary at Tiffin Calvert Claridon at Sparta LaRue at Caledonia Chesterville at Marengo Bucyrus at Shelby Galion at Norwalk Kenton at Forest, Carey at Ada Crestline at Upper Sandusky, Richwood at Cardington, Fredricktown at Elm Valley Centerburg at Mt Gilead Worthington at Marysville and Bellevue at Willard

Harding Awaits Fostoria; St. Mary at Tiffin

Prexies, Redmen Rate Even; Irish Rule as Underdogs

By JOHN SHORT

The Harding Presidents play host to Fostoria High School tomorrow night while St Mary travels to Tiffin to meet a highly-touted Tiffin Calvert eleven

* * *

Prexies

Fostoria will be out for revenge over Harding for a 7-6 defeat suffered last year on the Redmen's home field The loss was brought about on an extra point kick by Jim Kennel

Fostoria will be seeking its first Buckeye League win However the Redmen will take a record of two wins and a single loss into the races

They captured their opener 34-7 from the Shelby Whippets and walloped Port Clinton 26-8 Last week they were whipped 26-0 by Fremont Ross in their only league encounter

Spirit High

Enthusiasm runs high in the Harding camp after last week's sterling performance against Columbus Central The team probably will be at full strength for the tilt Jim Russell and Doug Bibler both suffering leg injuries in the Columbus tilt have been taking it easy and will be ready to fire against Fostoria

Harding's passing attack has been improving steadily since the Columbus West opener and the Prexies may soon begin striking regularly through the air Eddie Morse speedy end has been developing rapidly and is becoming one of the classiest receivers in the league

A giant pep rally tonight at the Harding practice field will prepare the squad for tomorrow's battle The entire student body will meet at 7 p m at the field Coach Pete Howison and his assistants will speak and the team will attend in a body

Irish

The Irish of St Mary will be facing a parochial powerhouse at Tiffin Calvert The Calvert crew takes a record of two impressive wins and an even more impressive loss into the game

Calvert lost their first game of the season last week to a powerful Ashland High School team They were edged 12-7

In their season opener they rolled to a 28-19 win over Galion and came back to drub Lorain St Mary in their second game 46-13

Looked Good

They played probably their best game of the season last week at Ashland The Calvert aggregation rolled to 19 first downs as compared to 11 for Ashland They gained 246 yards to 214 for the losers

With Jim Altweis directing the team from the quarterback slot the Tiffin eleven showed a variety of power plays as well as deception Altweis has a reputation of being a gambler and often calls running plays on fourth downs Jim Kramer and Joe Perna at the halfbacks provide speed and shifty running while Fullback Freddy Burkhart a smashing bruising runner is at fullback

St Mary in their last outing against Lima St Rose showed signs of slowing down With the exception of Dave Carr and linebacker Dave Smith before his ankle injury the team failed to impress despite holding the Lima squad to a 13-6 verdict Several key downfield blocks were missed and the backs appeared slow in starting

Seeks Replacement

Coach Ray Robinson has been searching for a suitable replacement for the dependable Smith at the linebacking post The sprained ankle probably will keep Smith out of action and deprive the Irish of one of their ace defensive workers

Services of Jim Dunne are also may be lost to the Irish The first string fullback suffered a broken finger in practice this week and may be used only on defense Should Finnegan be out the Irish would lose a valuable asset in his power thrusts through the line

BOWLING RESULTS

Lloyd Jonnson rolled a 277 single and a 676 series for individual laurels in the Craftsman League Tuesday night at the Marion Recreation Center A 225 by Drumm and a 551 series by Briggs topped the Automotive Loop In the Sportsman's League at the Palace alleys eight 200's were listed Wilson's 230 was the leader Applegett with a 579 captured series laurels Haughn's 226 and Littles 614 were high in the Marion Power Shovel League Individual scores follow

Presidential Talk Splits Governors

Taft, Ike Lines Drawn in G.O.P.; Democrats Divided

GATLINBURG, Tenn., Oct. 4—(AP)—The nation's governors were united on many state problems but split into four distinct political factions as they went home today from their 43rd annual conference.

With a Republican—Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska — elected conference chairman, the governors demonstrated that both parties are divided in advance of the presidential campaign.

Peterson, elected in a non-partisan atmosphere in which Democrats and Republicans are alternated as chairman, is a member of a faction of the Republican party that is campaigning to obtain the G.O.P. presidential nomination for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Representing the other wing of the Republicans, Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah enlivened yesterday's closing session with demands that the governors lay aside a scheduled discussion of law enforcement and turn to what he called the "real issues" of deficit spending, high taxes and threats of communism.

Warren Attacks Kefauver

In the crime probe discussion, Gov. Fuller Warren, Florida Democrat, attacked Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), former chairman of the Senate crime investigating committee.

Warren called Kefauver a "madly ambitious political shyster."

Gov. Peterson defended Kefauver, saying he thinks he is a "grand American."

Asked for comment on Warren's attack, Kefauver said in Washington "I've always heard a stuck pig always squeals."

A Kefauver committee report said Florida was one of the nation's major centers of organized gambling and crime. The report indirectly pointed a critical finger at Warren.

In the political activity, Republican governors who considered themselves in the so-called internationalist camp of the party rallied to the Eisenhower campaign under the leadership of Gov Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Those who seemed determined to put the emphasis in next year's presidential drive on domestic issues and who don't go along with many of the major phases of the Truman Administration's foreign policy gravitated to the camp of Sen Robert A. Taft of Ohio, along with Lee.

The Democrats also were divided into two camps.

One faction, represented by such governors as Michigan's G. Mennen Williams, is backing President Truman for another term. Most of them hope Eisenhower will not become the Republican presidential candidate and hope Taft will be the G.O.P. nominee.

The other Democratic faction, the Dixiecrats, are against Truman.

The state of Wyoming covers about 97,914 square miles.

Resume Hearing On Request To Set Aside Divorce

Hearing was resumed today in Marion County Common Pleas Court on a motion filed by Mrs Claribel K. Grumblatt to have a divorce verdict rendered against her set aside.

The hearing was opened Tuesday. Court officials were unable to say how long would be required to complete the hearing.

The motion was filed by Mrs. Grumblatt by her attorneys, Strelitz, Halberstein and Mitchell. The petition says the judgment is grossly unfair to her. She asked the verdict be set aside to allow her to file a cross petition against Walter K Grumblatt, plaintiff in the action, who is represented by the firm of Guthery, Harmon and Conkle.

Mr. Grumblatt was granted a divorce on grounds of gross neglect of duty after a hearing held May 5. Mrs Grumblatt says she failed to receive an equitable distribution of property acquired during their marriage. Mr. Grumblatt was awarded custody of two children except for August of each year when the custody is granted the mother.

Ask Full Rail Rate Increase

CHICAGO, Oct. 4—(AP)—The nation's railroads announced yesterday they will ask the Interstate Commerce Commission to reconsider its recent decision to hike eastern freight rates nine percent and rates elsewhere six percent.

Spokesmen for the railroads said they will ask the I.C.C. to authorize the full 15 percent increase requested by the railroads in their petition of last march.

The increases authorized by the the railroads to maintain their I.C.C. were inadequate to enable properties so as to provide adequate and efficient service to shippers and to fulfill their obligations to the national defense, the spokesmen said.

Jaycees Plan "Get Out Vote" Campaign

Will Also Sponsor Voice of Democracy Speaking Contest

The Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce voted to sponsor its annual "Get Out the Vote Campaign" at a regular meeting held Tuesday night at Hotel Harding.

The Jaycees also voted to sponsor the Voice of Democracy speaking contest in county schools again this year. The nationwide contest was sponsored here two years ago by the Jaycees.

The contest is to be held in city, county and parochial schools. One winner will be selected from each school for competition in the county finals and the winner there will make a transcription of his speech to be sent to the state finals. The state winner will then compete in the national finals. The national winner will receive a $500 college scholarship and an expense paid trip to Washington. Don Allen and Kenneth Huegett are chairmen of the committee in charge.

The group also approved a move to assist the Chamber of Commerce in the annual Fire Prevention Week to be observed in Marion next week. LeRoy Miller, chairman of the Junior Chamber safety committee, will direct Jaycee activities in the program.

Jaycee support was given the Religion in American Life program to be held in Marion County later this fall.

The group changed its meeting dates to the first and third Thursday of each month. The place of meeting also was changed to the Y.M.C.A. The regular dinner meeting of the group will be held on the third Thursday.

By January, 1765, there were 23 newspapers in the thirteen colonies; four in Boston, three in New York, two in English and one German in Philadelphia, one German in Germantown, Pennsylvania, two each in Connecticut, Rhode Island, North Carolina, and South Carolina and one each in Maryland, Virginia, New Hampshire, and Georgia.

* * *

In 1765 about five per cent of the families in the American colonies received a newspaper weekly, and these were passed from hand to hand and read by many persons.

* * *

The first American paper mill was erected at Germantown, Pennsylvania, in 1690, the same year that the first American newspaper was attempted.

* * *

When American printing began, the presses were still much like that used by Gutenberg two and a half centuries before.

* * *

Before 1800 there were 21 newspapers attempted west of the mountains and eight of these were in Kentucky.

* * *

In 1801 there were about 200 newspapers in the United States; in 1833 about 1,200.

Green Camp Men Plant Wheat For Bedfast Neighbor

GREEN CAMP—Sixteen farmers with their tractors, plows, discs and drills descended on the Joe Lyon farm on Route 203, near Green Camp Tuesday and did "a good neighbor" deed.

Mr. Lyon has been bedfast for more than a week suffering from a severe sinus infection. He is reported to be slightly better today.

The group worked the ground and planted it in wheat. In the group were E. C. Bailey, Ralph Bailey, Leroy Shroats, Harry Lyon, Zell Owen, A. W. Lowe, Merle Lashey Jr., Lorain Thompson, Warren Sult, Marion Morris, Warren Hedges, Norman Withrow, Frank Lyon, Carl Weiss, Gideon Long and Howard Cole.

Wives of several of the men prepared dinner at the Lyon home. Other neighbors sent in food.

Many Hear Book Review

First of Series Given By Mrs. Beuthel

Approximately 200 Marion people Tuesday night heard Mrs. Lloyd Beuthel of Sandusky review the book, "God's Men" by Pearl Buck.

The review, given in the First Presbyterian Church, was the first of a series of three book reviews to be given in Marion this year by Mrs. Beuthel, under sponsorship of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church. This marks the third year the association has sponsored a series of reviews by Mrs. Beuthal.

Pearl Buck's book is a character study of two men, who came to the United States as young men, having both been born in China of missionary parents. It relates how the two, both driven by inherited consciences and shaped by childhoods in China, work out their destinies so opposite in nature. One seeks the power of being a man who doubts himself, while the other pursues simple ideas yet makes himself rich in spite of this.

The second review in the series will be on Nov. 6 when Mrs. Beuthel will review "The President's Lady," an historical story of President Jackson and his wife.

Single admission tickets will be available for the review. Mrs. C W. Smoot is in charge of the tickets.

Operations To Relieve Pain

Severe and unremitting pain is the lot of many who suffer from incurable diseases This is a distressing situation which physicians have sometimes gone to great lengths to relieve All too often, their efforts have been in vain or have succeeded only for relatively short periods of time.

Greatest reliance has been on certain narcotic drugs, but this has two drawbacks — ever-increasing doses are required to combat the pain and, consequently, there is great danger of drug addiction.

More recently, surgeons who specialize in operations on the brain and nervous tissues have tried to find ways of "cutting" away unbearable pain. The one most commonly used consists in opening the skull and cutting certain nerve tracts. Many times, however, there may be mental deterioration following such an operation, but, in certain cases of confirmed morphine addicts and in patients having severe, inoperable, painful cancer, its use may be justified.

There may be much apathy, untidiness and unpredictable behavior in those having the operation. Also, epileptic attacks may occur.

A newer and less severe operation, known as cordotomy, is one in which the neurosurgeon severs a part of the spinal cord which conducts the pain sensation to the brain.

This operation is very difficult and delicate, since the pathway is very minute in size. Any slip may cause permanent paralysis of different parts of the body. It is carried out only after a careful study by the physician.

It is usually performed high in the chest and is unquestionably the best way to relieve pain in the abdomen and legs. However, it should not be used if the patient is a narcotic addict.

It has been found that after this operation, many people are able to return to their occupations and carry on, free of pain.

It would seem that in certain cases where the relief of pain due to incurable illness is necessary, cordotomy would be the operation of choice.

Questions and Answers

C. R.: I have been confined to bed for three months with rheumatic fever. The first six weeks were spent in the hospital. Can you tell me a little about this ailment?

Answer: Rheumatic fever is a general infection in which the patient usually has fever, with pain, swelling, and tenderness of various joints In rheumatic fever, the heart may be affected, therefore, it is important that a patient with this condition be kept at complete bed rest The germ which causes this condition has not as yet been discovered, but is thought to be a type of streptococcus. In some cases the infection seems to start in the tonsils; removal of the tonsils in these cases may be helpful.

Salicylates usually reduce the pain in the joints and the fever in a remarkable way.

A patient with this condition should be under the observation of a physician so that he can determine just when the patient should be allowed to be up and about.

Cortisone and ACTH have been found effective in the treatment of many cases.

RALLY DAY PLANNED

Rally Day will be observed at St. Paul Lutheran Sunday School at Cardington Sunday, with class promotion. At morning worship, communion will be celebrated. Thursday afternoon, next week, the Ladies' Aid Society will meet at the parsonage Mrs. Fred Lake will be in charge.

Endorse Proposal Up for Vote Approval

Clubs and other organizations voiced their approval of the proposed four-mill school levy to come before the voters in November in meetings held this week.

The Research Club at a meeting with Mrs. H. S Ruhl at Ringer's Inn, voted to support the measure, and the Woman's Club, meeting with Mrs. J. F. Robinson of Brush Ridge added its support. Iota Delta Study Club of the Child Conservation League approved the levy at a meeting with Mrs Harold Henry of Merchant avenue, as did the Beta Study Club at the home of Mrs. Edward Yoeman of Forest Lawn boulevard.

At a meeting of Marion Voiture No. 48, 40 et 8, in the Legion Dugout, the levy was endorsed by the members.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

There was that in my father's voice which brought home to me the peculiar thing about this latest problem of his He was not certain of victory, and he was deeply disturbed about it.

Never before had I known him to have the slightest doubt of ultimate success in any of his problems, no matter what difficulties they presented. But the chief figure in this one, the father of the "Yale heel" whose trapping he was planning, was so firmly entrenched in one of the highest positions of the government, and was carrying out his plans so skillfully, that I knew my father was sorely troubled over the prospect before him.

The next instant, however, with a shrug of his shoulders, he put his doubts on the shelf.

"What time are your guests returning tomorrow?" he asked me.

"Very early," I replied. "Mildred and the boys wish to get back to college as soon as possible. Miss Conway will stay a little longer."

"She may be with you for another day," he told me. "I hate to break up what appears to be a most enjoyable conversation," and he gestured to the chairs, close together, in which Hank and the alluring FBI operative were seated "But I wish to talk to her, and this appears to be as good a time as any."

"I suppose you wish to talk to her with no disturbing listeners," I told him.

"That is the general idea," he said, and I gestured toward the adjoining room.

"My room is at your service," I told him. "The girls have their things in there, but there are at least two comfortable chairs."

"We cannot possibly occupy more than two," he said smiling, and I knew that his optimism had triumphed over his fears, and that he was steeled for work and planning again.

"Would you mind," he said a bit hesitantly, "asking Miss Conway if she can spare me a few minutes as soon as possible?

I rose at once, turned and wrinkled my nose at him.

"What will you do if she tells me that she cannot possibly make an appointment with you for another hour?"

His eyes twinkled as he countered my question with a second.

"What would you suggest?" he asked.

"Hanging at the yard arm at the very least," I told him, "although I suppose lighted slivers under her fingernails, or boiling in oil would be more commensurate with her offense. But somethink tells me that you won't even have to box her ears lightly"

"Am I such a despot?" he asked, and there was an uncertainty in his manner, which made me turn back and, regardless of spectators, put my arms around his neck.

"You're apything but," I whispered. "You're the kindest, dearest man in the whole world. Never forget that. Also, remember that I love you very much.

MUST PAY $10,000 FINE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4 — (AP)—Despite his plea of poverty, Dick Contino, onetime $4,000 a week accordionist, must pay a $10,000 fine for draft dodging. Federal District Judge Michael J. Roche, told that Contino is so poor he could honestly take a pauper's oath, said Contino's financial status was brought about by people who were "avaricous" "I'm satisfied that those who took his money can raise his fine," he said.

GOOD REASON

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUNDS, N. M. (UP)—Newsmen who recently attended the firing of a Navy Viking rocket asked why the rocket was exactly 32 inches in diameter. After a long technical explanation involving ratio of length to diameter and effects of air drag on a larger projectile, the engineer concluded: "Besides, it so happened that the metal plate we were able to obtain made a cylinder exactly 32 inches across."

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Secretary Brannan says Mr. Truman should run again "for the welfare of the nation" and even non-Trumanites admit that there are quite a few people whose lot has improved under his administration.

• • •

My barber says he personally can name quite a few just out of the news columns of the past year.

• • •

The Republicans still aren't sure whether to take Taft, with whom they don't think they can win, or Eisenhower, with whom they're not sure they can win either.

• • •

But some say Ike is over there talking with men of a dozen different nations just to fit him for the Republican party.

• • •

Anyway, to clarify a point in the news blackout in Washington . . . the new executive rule does not restrain any cabinet member from traveling the nation to predict the reelection of the executive.

• • •

This is not considered a breach of security in the sense of giving information that will comfort the Republicans.

Collegians Make Smash Hit Movie

SWARTHMORE, Pa. — (UP) — The first 35-millimeter talking picture ever produced, directed, written and acted wholly by college students was a smash hit at Swarthmore College.

Entitled "Crime," the 25-minute show was co-produced by Theodore Conant, younger son of the president of Harvard University, and Frank Kensil, both honor students.

The two young men dug into their own pockets for the $1,000 cost of production and rented cameras from New York City, which they had to return in 24 hours, including driving time between here and Gotham.

The production had a cast of only four with four engineering and physics student behind the cameras. The play, written by John L. Weigel, former truck starter in Buffalo, N. Y., was voted by students the best play of 1950.

Although one female oyster produces hundreds of millions of eggs every summer, few are fertilized and still fewer live past the free-swimming stage to become mature oysters.
